

The SUIO (University Service for Integration and Orientation) provides you with its documentation, advisors and guidance officers for personalised support and answers any questions you may have about the construction of your study project.

Orientation and reorientation

SUIO offers collective and/or individualised support by professional guidance counsellors according to the need for further study and the professions envisaged. They answer the questions that students ask themselves about the construction of their professional project in line with their aspirations.

A rich documentation on the training courses and trades is available to all.

Liaison with secondary education has also been developed, in particular with the reception of high school students, the days of the future baccalaureate holder, the training courses for head teachers and the network of students and teacher ambassadors.

Several events dedicated to information, orientation and reorientation as well as knowledge of professional outlets are organised throughout the year (reorientation modules, master's fairs, forums, workshops, etc.).

Professional integration

SUIO also offers students support from integration officers. Throughout the year, SUIO organizes thematic workshops to help students develop their methodology for finding an internship (and/or a job): help in writing CVs (French and English), application letters, preparation for recruitment interviews, methodology for finding an internship in France and abroad.

It also organizes several annual events dedicated to internship research and professional integration (Forum Stage, Cafés Rencontre avec des professionnels...).

SUIO also offers a diploma of establishment dedicated to professional integration: the DESIU AIPE.

Finally, it administers the IPRO digital platform, which offers internships and job offers, a CV library and allows the management of student internship agreements.
